

Save The Farm!!

05/26/06

The South Central Farmers are currently on red alert. They are trying to save one of the largest urban garden in the United States. The sheriffs have the eviction notice are expected to throw people of the land tomorrow morning (may 25, 2005) or in the next few days. We are asking you for your immediate help by being at the garden, but we also acknowledge your busy schedule. We would like you to commit to 2-3 hours for as many days as you can (more hours are welcomed and you are also welcomed to spend the night). We want to save the farm, but we cannot do it without you. Please choose one of the following shifts (you can choose more than one). If you cannot commit to a whole shift, any help is appreciated. If you can help, email your contact info, shift availability, and days available to friendsofthefarm@mail.com

Day	Night
6am-9am	6pm-9pm
9am-12pm	9pm-12am
12pm-3pm	12am-3am
3pm-6pm	3am-6am

Note: The South Central Community Garden is located at 41st and Long Beach. Please bring food, TP, blankets and comfortable clothing. You will be in outdoor conditions.

For further information about the garden please visit these sites

<http://la.indymedia.org/>

<http://www.southcentralfarmers.com/index.php>

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/South\_Central\_Farm%2C\_Los\_Angeles#External\_links

