

POLITICAL VIOLENCE IN MEXICO

ANABEL HERNÁNDEZ AT UCSC

Anabel Hernández is a renowned Mexican journalist, author of the best-selling book Los Señores del Narco (Narcoland), and the key challenger to the Mexican federal government's official story about the kidnapping of 43 student teachers in Iguala last September.

Since 2001, she has investigated abuse of power, gender violence, and drug cartels. She has received multiple awards, including the Golden Pen of Freedom, the Mexican Journalism Award, and official recognition by UNICEF. Anabel will detail her evidence and argument regarding political violence in contemporary Mexico. A Q&A session with the audience will follow.

The event is free and open to the public.

1:00–2:45 THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19

CHARLES E. MERRILL LOUNGE

Sponsored by: UCSC Politics Department, Chicano Latino Research Center, Center for Political Ecology, UCSC Students for Ayotzinapa, and UCSC Latin American and Latino Studies Department. Contact: miswilso@ucsc.edu