

Sensible Cinema, sponsored by the Social Justice Council of the Unitarian-Universalist Center of San Francisco, invites you to a special screening

In November, 2018, four young women ran, for the first time, for election to the U.S. House of Representatives. They represented different social, cultural and ethnic backgrounds, and came from distant parts of the country. But they were united by a common conviction:

The status quo is unacceptable.

... and by a common goal:

To challenge it.

This Netflix-produced movie won the 2019 Sundance Film Festival Favorite Award. It tells the story of how four courageous progressives are fighting for equality and justice in a society that seems increasingly stacked in favor of the privileged few against the vast majority of working people.

It's our fight, too.

PLEASE JOIN US!

FRIDAY, JUNE 7 • 7–9 pm

*Unitarian Universalist Center, TSK Room
1187 Franklin St. (Corner Geary Blvd.) San Francisco*

FREE ADMISSION • Wheelchair accessible • Snacks and beverages served

Co-sponsored by the SF Berniecrats Healthcare Committee, Democratic Socialists of America-SF Healthcare Committee, Progressive Democrats of America-SF, and Healthcare-Now

For more information about the film, go to www.facebook.com/knockdownthehouse/. To view the trailer on YouTube, enter "Knock Down the House-Netflix-trailer" on your browser. For more information about the screening event, contact melvinstarks734@yahoo.com.

Labor & materials donated 05/10/19